

DICKINSON TEXTS AND COMPOSERS

Program to be selected from the following

Recitative (letter by Higginson to his wife on his first visit with E. D.)

I'm Nobody! Who Are You?

Moto Perpetuo (Fame is the one that does not stay)

Arietta parlante (letter by Dickinson to T. W. Higginson)

Fame

Bee, I'm Expecting you!

How happy is the little stone

Epilogue (Nature the gentlest Mother is)

The Moon is Distant From the Sea

If all the griefs I am to have

Cantilena I (letter to T.W. Higginson)

I Cannot Be Ashamed

That it Will Never Come Again

Aria (Wonder is not precisely knowing)

Coranto (Forbidden fruit a flavor has)

You cannot put a fire out

Wild Nights (from Four Dickinson Songs)

Good Morning, Midnight

As Imperceptibly as Grief

Heart, we will forget him!

The Grave My Little Cottage Is

When I was small, a Woman died

They dropped like Flakes

It feels a shame to be Alive

The bustle in a house

Will There Really be a Morning

I Never Saw a Moor
